RVR 2013 Membership Renewal

Dear Colleague,

The aim of the RVR Forum is to debate and discuss all aspects of remarketing, including the pre-procurement stages, whole life costs and all matters relating to the resale of the asset. The Forum provides access to key speakers and the latest discussion points through events and web communications. The RVR Forum is unique - there is no other industry forum for residual value and remarketing in the vehicle hire industry. Only BVRLA members are eligible to join the RVR Forum.

RVR 2013 Membership Renewal

BVRLA RVR Forum Objectives

To provide an opportunity for RVR Forum members to hear the views of fellow colleagues, to help develop new ideas of benefit to the industry, to share experience and knowledge both within and outside the industry.

The aims and objectives of RVR forum are to:

Aims and Objectives

- Identify and address the key remarketing and vehicle residual values issues
- Creating the environment for members to establish and share industry best practice
- Develop and enhance data streams to assist with planning and forecasting
- Comment on current and future legislative issues effecting remarketing and residual values
- To act as a 'strategy group' for BVRLA daily rental and leasing members to meet in open forum, with representatives from the trade guides, auction houses and re-marketing specialists to share feedback about the disposals market.
- To share information, news and views between members, trade guides, auction houses and re-marketing specialists to facilitate transparency and clarity on the state of the vehicle disposal market.
- To facilitate communication between members, guides, auction houses and re-marketing specialists to obtain clarity and understanding of the current and future disposal markets.
- The BVRLA RVR forum will qualify for continuous professional development credits for Member of the Institute of the Motor Industry (IMI) and ATA Technical Services. Qualifying participants will be able to have their IMI-issued CPD vouchers validated on the day of the forum to make self-submission of professional learning a simple process. The RVR forum will qualify as a structured learning activity.
